RICHMOND SELECTED AGAIN.

This City Chosen for Next Meeting-Plan to Establish a Church Newspaper-Address by Dr. McLean-C. W. B. M. To-Day.

The State Disciples' Convention will adjourn to-day with the session of the iristian Woman's Board of Missions. The annual meeting thus closing has been one of the most interesting ones in the history of the body and one of the best attended. The programme was a most attractive one, and has been well carried

The meeting yesterday was devoted largely to the consideration of missionary work in the several districts of Virginia as well as in the foreign field. In fact, a missionary spirit pervades the entire convention, which is distinctively a missionary gathering.

Considerable business was transacted yesterday. Richmond was selected for the next meeting, and the time was set the next meeting, and the time was set for November 11-14, 1962. A proposition to establish a denominational weekly, to be the organ of the Virginia and Maryland the organ of the Virginia and Maryland State Conventions, met with the favor of the body, and a committee was appointed to look into the matter. It is possible that the "Christian Monthly," published here, will be bought and converted into the organ. The reports of various committees were received, discussed and adopted. Last night there was an address by Dr. Archibald aclean, of Cincinnati, president of the Foreign Mission Society, and a very distinguished man.

BIBLE SOCIETY'S WORK,

BOYNEY S. Compbell, agent of the Bible

Rev. W. S. Campbell, agent of the Bible Society of Virginia, was then introduced to the convention and presented in brief form the work and need of his society. He said that the purpose of the Bible So-clety was to put a copy of the Scriptures into every home of the State which is without one. Fifty thousand families in without one. Fifty thousand famines in the State, he declared, are without a copy of the Word. He told of a young giri brought to a hospital here who had never seen a Billy, never heard a preacher, never ended a church, never knew of Christ; this, too, nin the Old Dominion. He urged that offerings be taken in the churches for this great and fundamental work. His remarks were most cordially received. most cordially received.

REPORTS SUBMITTED.

Just before adjournment the reports of the various committees were received and discussed. For the next place of meeting Richmond was selected, although the Rev. J. A. Spencer, of Danville, moved as a substitute that his place be the one chosen. The time for the meeting, after some discussion, was fixed for No-

The report of the Committee on Ways and Means was submitted by the chairman, the Rev. Carey E. Morgan. It made the following recommendation: made the following recommendation:

'That the salary of the financial agent be guaranteed by personal pledges, as heretofore; that the churches and Sunday-schools adopt the following days for collections for State work: Sundayschools, the first Sunday in April; churches, first Sunday in October; that the Christian Monthly, published in Richmond, be adopted as the official organ of the State Boyard; that all other matters the State Board: that all other matters pertaining to detail work in State be left to the State Board." The report was adopted by sections.

The Rev. P. A. Cave moved that a committee of three be appointed to co-operate with a like committee from the Maryland State Convention to look into the advisability of establishing a church newspaper for the two States. The motion was carried and the chair appointed the following committee from Virginia: Rev. P. A. Cave, Rev. Carey E. Morgan, and Mr. W. F. McCauley, of Fredericks burg.

The movement to establish a weekly organ originated in the Maryland Con vention, a committee from which has al-ready been appointed. The chairman of this committee, the Rev. W. S. Hoye, of Beaver Creek, was in the city yesterday in the interests of the matter. The plan is to create a joint stock company, by which the paper can be run. It is thought that the weekly will be located here.

Afternoon Session. The afternoon session was opened with devetional expresses, amducted by key. C. O. Woodward, of Petersburg. The conference on church hindrances, post-poned from the morning session, was opened with an earnest appeal by Rev. Richard Bagby, of Louisa, for more preachers in the districts and State at large. He pointed out briefly the reasons for the present lack of workers in country districts and urged the attention of the meeting to this feature of the convention work. Rev. i. M. Omer then addressed the meeting on the subject, "Lack of Discipline," and his remarks were followed by a brief discussion of his theme.

The chief feature of the afternoon service was the address of Secretary A. McLean, of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society. Mr. McLean spoke for forty minutes on "The Perpetual Increase of Christ's Kingdom." After dwelling upon the Scripture prophecies of Christ's supremacy, he spoke of the agencies of today which are making that supremacy possible. In this Mr. McLean called attention to the territories of communication of the communication. tention to the territorial expansion of our times, and pointed out that it was the Christian nations which were enlarging their Somain. A hundred years ago but seven per cent, of the rurface of the globe was ruled by Christian nations. To-day the percentage is eighty-two. Seventy-five years ago Africa was accounted worthless. To-day nine-tentns of that continent is under control of Christian powers. Japan, China and Turkey are the only great powers remaining, and of these Japan is awakening to Christianity, and Turkey fast losing its power.

INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION. He called attention next to the industrial expansion of the Christian nations, noting the productive power of the United States. This has been accomplished, the speaker continued, by an intellectual and moral expansion, which has prepared the way for Christianity. After dwelling upon the evils of poly-gamy in Japan, the marriage of children and treatment of widows in India, Mr. McLean pointed out the successful meth-forces at present in the field.

Secretary McLean closed his address with a novel object lesson on missionary work. This consisted of a number or ribbons stretched from the speaker's platform toward the doors of the church. A ribbon 1,200 inches long represented the $1,200,000,000 drink bill of the United States, and a ribbon 5 inches long, the $5,000,000 drive by all the religious hodies. $5.000,000 given by all the religious bodies of America to foreign missions. Each inch of ribbon stood for $1.000,000, and 600 nches of ribbon represented the tobacco bill of the United States, and 120 inches ported but few deaths among its Chris-tian workers. The Committee on Resolu-tions reported next and tendered its thanks to all associated with the work of entertainment. Among its resolutions was one relating to the liquor traffic, the convention putting itself or record of taking an attitude of aggressive hostility and of supporting the measures of the Anti-Saloon League.

Secretary McLean's Second Address.

Secretary McLean was again the speaker at the evening service. This session opened at 7:30, and after brief devotional services, listened to an address by Rev. Cephas Sheburne, of Roanoke, Mr. Sheb-burne addressed his remarks to parents and teachers in behalf of the Sundayschool. He dwelt chiefly upon the respon-sibility of these for the development of the child-life, and upon the possibilities for this in Sunday-school work. After this address Mr. McLean was introduced to the evening audience. His address was an earnest, heartielt appeal for more united effort for the evangelization of the world. Although Mr. McLean's chief interest is that of the foreign field, his sympathy with State and national work is as great as if he were more directly iden-tified with these. Throughout his speaking his plea was for increased work in Virginia—work that should be evangelical and at the same time bring to all reli-gious bodies the plea of the Christian Church for union. New churches, urged the speaker, mean new sources of supply.

More disciples in Virginia mean more Christians in China, in India, in Japan, With this end in view he urged the selection of best qualified evangelists, and dwelt briefly upon the best means of securing security.

MORE CONSECRATED LIVING. Secretary McLean closed his remarks with a plea for more consecrated giving. Nothing less than an offering from every member and every church a contributor can be held before the people as an ideal condition. His address will long be remembered for the encouragement it gave the workers of the State.

At the close of Mr. McLean's remarks Rev. Carey E. Morgan represented the State Board in an appeal for $1,200, the guaranteed salary of its financial agent.
A telegram of Christian greeting was received from the North Carolina Conventior now in session, and a telegram of similar greeting was sent in reply. The Committee on Enrollment reported 260 delegates in attendance on the con-

TOOK CARBOLIC ACID.

Mrs. Stubbins' False Teeth Helped to Save Her from Serious Injury.

False teeth, upper and lower, probably saved the life of Mrs. Martha Stubbins. an aged woman living at No. 1715 Washington Street. By mistake she took a large swallow of carbolic acid into her mouth early yesterday morning, and only the plates on which her teeth were set saved her from frightful injury to her mouth. As it was, she swallowed some off the acid, and while her suffering is intense, she will recover.

Mrs. Stubbins lives in the house with her husband, her daughter and a young son. She is employed in the bag mills here, as is her husband. For some time she has been suffering from a throat affection, and for this she was accustomed to take a medicine prescribed by her physician. About 4 o'clock yesterday morning she was suffering from a choking sensation and arose to get some of the her hand fell on the carbolic acid bottle, which was beside the throat medicine, and before she realized the mistake she took a lage swallow into her mouth. Instantly her screams aroused the family. Medical aid was summoned, and last night she was resting easily.
